Switzerland is one of the less well-known wine-producing countries as virtually all its wines are consumed in the country, leaving little for the rest of the world. The country is a treasure trove of indigenous grape varieties, many of which are planted only in Switzerland, growing alongside more familiar varieties in the unique Alpine terroir with its wide diversity of climates.

We're delighted to welcome Simon Hardy DipWSET, UK Brand Ambassador for the Albion Group of leading Swiss wine producers, to introduce three new wines at Hedonism and three old favourites from Switzerland. He will be joined by Fred Hofmann - whose father André has recently acquired Domaine de la Pierre Latine in the region of Vaud - who will focus on the estate's leading wine, Clos du Crosex Grillé and its historical connection with Winston Churchill.

In this tasting, guests will have the opportunity to discover six distinctive wines, enjoying local specialities made from Chasselas, Petite Arvine, Cornalin and Amigne, as well as some world-class fine wines made from Pinot Noir and Merlot:

Reserve du Clos du Crosex Grille Blanc 2019

Muses Petite Arvine 2020

Germanier Amigne de Vetroz 2020

No 3 Pinot Noir Schlossgut Bachtobel 2019

Cornalin Domaine des Muses 2019

Sassi Grossi Merlot Gialdi 2019

Tickets for this tasting include a £10 voucher, redeemable against any of the wines shown on the night.

Please note this tasting will be held at 3/7 Davies Street, London, W1K 3LD.
